ABOUT THE CFT RESOURCE LINKS PAGE

A complementary resource to the Comprehensive Financing Tool (CFT), providing users with tools and resources to support implementation of various strategic options across the full breadth of the commodity financing value chain. The resources are organized within the categories described below and the commodity group for which they are most applicable is identified. This resource collection will be updated routinely. If you'd like to submit a resource, email us at secretariat@rhsupplies.org.

Which tools to use and when?

1. Policy and Advocacy Tools: Tools to support building the business case for financing reproductive health and neonatal health supplies. You might use these tools to generate evidence to persuade decision-makers (ministries of finance and health, national legislative bodies, budget committees etc.) to create, protect or increase funding for reproductive health and neonatal health supplies
2. Quantification Tools: Tools to support countries with forecasting and supply planning for reproductive health and neonatal health supplies. You might use these tools when trying to understand what the commodity need is in your country and when it is needed.
3. Costing and Financial Planning Tools: Tools to support financial and other resource mapping for reproductive health and neonatal health supplies. You might use these tools to understand the cost of national supply needs, the parties responsible for funding what supplies and identify the gap left
4. Tools/Mechanisms to Promote an Enabling Environment for Commodity Financing: Tools and/or funding mechanisms that support an enabling environment for financing of reproductive health and neonatal health supplies. You might use these tools to identify new funding sources or improve efficiency in spending, where funding exists but is insufficient
5. Health Financing System Tools: A set of resources and tools to support assessment, design, and sustainability of health financing systems. You might use these tools for broader health systems strengthening to better support and sustain commodity financing.
